Dear [redacted]

Your letter of 21 June was received just as the General was leaving on a short trip and he did not have a chance to read it before he left. However, when he returns I shall be glad to show it to him and I know he will be very much interested in hearing from you again.

The General would like to personally answer all letters which he receives, but I am sure you understand that it would not be humanly possible for him to do so. Therefore, since I am answering your letter for the General I would like to congratulate you for him on your promotion to Corporal, and to say how very sorry we are to hear that you have been wounded. I know that you are receiving the excellent care which you deserve, and hope that by the time this letter reaches you you will have completely recovered.

Lots of luck to you in the future, and I hope that you can get into Air Force Intelligence.

Sincerely,
[redacted]

Secretary to General Smith
